Jef Raskin's Baby
Jef Raskin was the type of character who could enthrall Steve Jobs—or annoy him. As it turned out, he did both. A philosophical guy who could be both playful and ponderous, Raskin had studied computer science, taught music and visual arts, conducted a chamber opera company, and organized guerrilla theater. His 1967 doc-

Why Create Content?

- Individualize for children's needs
- Implement evidence based approaches
- Customize for children's interests
- Potential for sharing

It is better to create than to learn! Creating is the essence of life.
