

PROJECT SIX

A community-based residential treatment center for adolescents. This intensively therapeutic program, located 30 minutes from downtown Los Angeles in the San Fernando Valley, is designed for adolescents with emotional and behavioral challenges.

Project Six coordinates the vital components of residence, school, family, and community to help each resident meet his or her individual goals. The program is designed to support positive social behaviors, build self-esteem, and assist students in developing a sense of responsibility. A behavior management system is used to aid residents in making appropriate behavioral choices and to provide them with feedback in a positive, reinforcing way. Project Six emphasizes the importance of safety, respect, and responsibility in our residents' lives, and the behavior system reflects this philosophy.
